

EQUALITY IMPACT ASSESSMENT (EQIA): SCREENING FORM

1. IDENTIFY THE POLICY, PROJECT, SERVICE REFORM OR BUDGET OPTION:

a) Name of the Policy, Project, Service Reform or Budget Option to be screened

St. Mungo Museum of Religious Life and Art - Stakeholder Engagement

b) Reason for Change in Policy or Policy Development

Glasgow Life Museums (GL/GM) and Historic Environment Scotland (HES) are working in partnership to support engagement with both internal and external stakeholders. Led by an externally appointed consultant- New Practice- this activity is due to formally commence in late summer 2022 and will help to inform proposed plans for the future of the St. Mungo Museum of Religious Life and Art.

All engagement activity will ideally take place in person to overcome any digital barriers, subject to Scottish Government COVID-19 guidance and/or restrictions. Glasgow Life and HES will carry out risk assessments as appropriate and requires COVID-safe measures to be employed by all facilitators. All engagement activity will be subject to both current- and future- Scottish Government COVID-19 guidelines.

Partnership work between GM and HES seeks to create a modern civic space built on the aspirations of local people that houses a sustainable model for income generation supporting local and social enterprises. In turn the positive impacts of involving communities in decisions that affect them and their locality - improved health, wellbeing and social capital - and skills development - are well documented.

The wider project will consider how the building operates within the High Street Corridor to provide a comprehensive 'day out' to a wide audience from the city and beyond.

c) List main outcome focus and supporting activities of the Policy, Project, Service Reform or Budget Option

- Stakeholder engagement will ensure equality of participation between local people and HES, GL employees and any other stakeholders, with a particular focus on inter and intra faith groups. The activity will be led by an externally appointed consultant- New Practice- to ensure the former.
- The engagement process will explore opportunities for working alongside community activists and gatekeepers to reach out to local people in safe and familiar environments.

* For reasons of brevity race is not an exhaustive list, and therefore please feel free to augment the list above where appropriate; to reflect the complexity of other racial identities.

** There are too many faith groups to provide a list, therefore, please input the faith group e.g. Muslims, Buddhists, Jews, Christians, Hindus, etc. Consider the different faith groups individually when considering positive or negative impacts. A list of religions used in the census is available here.

Summary of Protected Characteristics Most Impacted

Disability
 Pregnancy and Maternity
 Age
 Race

All of whom may feel less confident in participating in engagement activity due to being more vulnerable in relation to coronavirus. This is particularly the case for those who may have had to shield for a long period of time, and for whom re-engaging with social scenarios may be particularly anxiety inducing.

The continued prevalence of coronavirus variants and rising case numbers- despite high levels of vaccination across Scotland- and in addition there being no legal requirement for those participating in engagement sessions to be vaccinated may also pose anxiety inducing for these groups.

Additionally, the legally required COVID safe protocols- specifically if there is a reintroduction to the wearing of face coverings- may not suit some disabled people.

Summary of Socio-Economic Impacts

Participants may not feel confident using public transport to travel to and from sessions but may not have access to a car. This is particularly important when we consider participants who may feel less confident in participating in large scale engagement activity due to being more vulnerable in relation to coronavirus. This is particularly the case for those who may have had to shield for a long period of time, and for whom travel on public transport may be anxiety-inducing.

In addition, the cost of public transport could be prohibitive in terms of participation for some people.

Summary of Human Rights Impacts

UN Declaration of Human Rights- Article 27- states that:

1. Everyone has the right freely to participate in the cultural life of the community, to enjoy the arts and to share in scientific advancement and its benefits.

UNCRC- Article 31 (leisure, play and culture- states that: Every child has the right to relax, play and take part in a wide range of cultural and artistic activities.

The process will afford the opportunity for communities to engage with, and contribute views and ideas, to the decision-making on the future of St. Mungo's Museum of Religious Art and Life and the Cathedral Precinct. The process is informed by the National Standards for Community Engagement which promotes effective engagement and participation to enable communities to achieve more influence in decisions which affect them.

Summary of Health Inequalities* Impacts

Please include reference to any protected characteristic group which may be affected in terms of health inequalities.

Also make reference to other groups that may potentially be affected – including people with drug problems, homeless people, care - experienced young people and carers. This is an indicative but not exhaustive list and any relevant groups along with the anticipated impacts should be noted.

Some participants may feel less confident in participating in large scale engagement activity due to being more vulnerable in relation to coronavirus. This is particularly the case for those who may have had to shield for a long period of time, and for whom re-engaging with social scenarios may be particularly anxiety inducing.

*Health inequalities between people arise because of inequalities in society. Health inequalities are influenced by a wide range of factors, including access to education, employment and good housing; equitable access to healthcare; individuals' circumstances and behaviours, including lifestyle factors (e.g. diet), and income. These issues are known as the social determinants of health.

They are also influenced by levels of access to and participation in culture, learning, sport and physical activity opportunities.

Decisions made about Glasgow Life's policies, projects, service reforms and budget options have the potential to make a positive or negative difference to health. Particular attention should be paid to not making health inequalities worse. For example widening the gap between those experiencing more healthy years lived and those who fair worse. Our aim should be to reduce this gap and promote healthy equity in Glasgow.
