a) Name of the Policy, Project, Service Reform or Budget Option to be screened

People's Palace and Winter Gardens- Stakeholder Engagement

b) Reason for Change in Policy or Policy Development

Glasgow Life Museums (GL/GM) and Glasgow City Council Neighbourhoods, Regeneration and Sustainability (NRS) are working in partnership to support engagement with both internal and external stakeholders. Led by an externally appointed consultant- New Practice- this activity is due to formally commence in late Spring 2022 and will initially help to inform a UK Government Levelling Up funding bid, and any subsequent proposed plans for the future of the People's Palace and Winter Gardens thereafter.

All engagement activity will ideally take place in person to overcome any digital barriers, subject to Scottish Government COVID-19 guidance and/or restrictions. Glasgow Life and GCC NRS will carry out risk assessments as appropriate and requires COVID-safe measures to be employed by all facilitators. All engagement activity will be subject to both current- and future- Scottish Government COVID-19 guidelines.

The proposed redevelopment of the PPWG seeks to create a modern civic space built on the aspirations of local people that houses a sustainable model for income generation supporting local and social enterprises. In turn the positive impacts of involving communities in decisions that affect them and their locality - improved health, wellbeing and social capital - and skills development - are well documented.

The redevelopment of the museum in particular creates a unique opportunity for Glaswegians to share their stories of the city with the rest of the world, a key asset when one considers that pre-2020, domestic and international tourists accounted for almost 2/3 of visitors to the museum.

The wider project will consider how the building operates within its urban and parkland setting, and associated interdependencies, and the role that green travel planning and increasing disabled access can have on reducing inequalities and increasing participation. It will also consider how the cultural offer within the building complements and amplifies the sport, events, green space and recreational offer within the park to provide a comprehensive 'day out' to a wide audience.

From the start, all stakeholders will have equal access to information on local public health inequalities, social opportunity, site usage throughout the pandemic, and the importance of the venue and its location on Glasgow Green for local audiences and tourists alike. This will be provided by Glasgow Life and GCC NRS in advance of any engagement activity.

In addition, any planned approach will endeavour to explore and maximise opportunities for working alongside community activists, leaders and facilitators, specifically the Glasgow Life supported Artist-in-Residence, which has so far demonstrated capacity to bring people together, to share experiences and foster a sense of community- to reach out to local people in safe and familiar environments. Any proposed creative and artistic approaches to engagement will involve all stakeholders and emphasise the power of listening to communities and their lived experience in order to shape social recovery and renewal.

c) List main outcome focus and supporting activities of the Policy, Project, Service Reform or Budget Option

- Stakeholder consultation will initially help to inform key elements of a UK Government Levelling Up funding application, due to be submitted in 2022, with subsequent activity further supporting any proposed redevelopment of the PPWG.
- Stakeholder engagement will ensure equality of participation between local people and GCC NRS, GL employees and any other stakeholders, such as Friends of the People’s Palace and Winter Gardens. The activity will be led by an externally appointed consultant- New Practice- to ensure the former.
- The engagement process will explore opportunities for working alongside community activists and gatekeepers, specifically the GL supported Artist-in-Residence- which has so far demonstrated capacity to bring people together, to share experiences and foster a sense of community- to reach out to local people in safe and familiar environments.

Summary of Protected Characteristics Most Impacted

Disability
Pregnancy and Maternity
Age
Race

All of whom may feel less confident in participating in engagement activity due to being more vulnerable in relation to coronavirus. This is particularly the case for those who may have had to shield for a long period of time, and for whom re-engaging with social scenarios may be particularly anxiety inducing.

The continued prevalence of coronavirus variants- despite high levels of vaccination across Scotland- and in addition there being no legal requirement for those participating in engagement sessions to be vaccinated may also pose anxiety inducing for these groups.

Additionally, the legally required COVID safe protocols- specifically the wearing of face coverings- may not suit some disabled people.

Summary of Socio-Economic Impacts

Participants may not feel confident using public transport to travel to and from sessions but may not have access to a car. This is particularly important when we consider participants who may feel less confident in participating in large scale engagement activity due to being more vulnerable in relation to coronavirus. This is particularly the case for those who may have had to shield for a long period of time, and for whom travel on public transport may be anxiety-inducing.

In addition, the cost of public transport could be prohibitive in terms of participation for some people.

Summary of Human Rights Impacts

UN Declaration of Human Rights- Article 27- states that:

1. Everyone has the right freely to participate in the cultural life of the community, to enjoy the arts and to share in scientific advancement and its benefits.

UNCRC- Article 31 (leisure, play and culture- states that: Every child has the right to relax, play and take part in a wide range of cultural and artistic activities.

Summary of Health Inequalities* Impacts

Please include reference to any protected characteristic group which may be affected in terms of health inequalities.

Also make reference to other groups that may potentially be affected – including people with drug problems, homeless people, care-experienced young people and carers. This is an indicative but not exhaustive list and any relevant groups along with the anticipated impacts should be noted.

Some participants may feel less confident in participating in large scale engagement activity due to being more vulnerable in relation to coronavirus. This is particularly the case for those who may have had to shield for a long period of time, and for whom re-engaging with social scenarios may be particularly anxiety inducing.

*Health inequalities between people arise because of inequalities in society. Health inequalities are influenced by a wide range of factors, including access to education, employment and good housing; equitable access to healthcare; individuals' circumstances and behaviours, including lifestyle factors (e.g. diet), and income. These issues are known as the social determinants of health.

They are also influenced by levels of access to and participation in culture, learning, sport and physical activity opportunities.

Decisions made about Glasgow Life's policies, projects, service reforms and budget options have the potential to make a positive or negative difference to health. Particular attention should be paid to not making health inequalities worse. For example widening the gap between those experiencing more healthy years lived and those who fair worse. Our aim should be to reduce this gap and promote healthy equity in Glasgow.
